Data Teams

The strategies will (mark all that apply)

- Provide opportunities for all children, including subgroups of students, to meet the challenging Missouri Learning Standards.

Description of how strategy/strategies will provide

Teachers will use data teams, or collaborative teams, to identify students in need of supplemental help in the areas of math and ELA.

- Use methods and instructional strategies that strengthen the academic program in the school.

Description of how strategy/strategies will strengthen

Teachers will use their understanding of Developing Assessment Capable Learners (DACL) to support student learning. Additional use of programs, like Pathways and Scientific Learning, will allow teachers to focus on particular skills in communication arts. Eureka Math Equip will help teachers identify learning gaps before and during instruction. School personnel will also use small groups as an instructional strategy to allow for a more focused support for students in mathematics.
